Equestrian

Fuel your body

Equestrian requires a high level of co-ordination, concentration, and endurance to perform at your best.

For active juniors, learning to fuel your body during your early career can assist with training your muscles to perform at their best, supporting your long-term sporting goals.

Learn how to fuel your body so that you don't run out of energy or lose concentration before your event is over!

MAIN MEALS

Having energy for training or an event starts as early as dinner the night before! Meals in the lead up to your event should include vegies and a source of protein (such as lean meat, eggs, or alternatives), as well as plenty of foods like wholemeal bread, pasta, rice, or potatoes, which provide long-lasting energy.

SNACKS

Throughout the day, have plenty of snacks like fruit, vegie sticks with dip, yoghurt, or cheese and crackers to keep your tank topped up.

One or two hours before training or an event, have a snack to get your muscles ready to go! This could be English muffins, crumpets or pikelets, with peanut butter or a small amount of vegemite, jam or honey. Even fruit or yoghurt are quick and easy fuelling ideas.

HYDRATION

Competition days can be long, hot, and tiring depending on the weather! To keep your concentration and decision-making skills at their best, hydrating with water is crucial!

This means regularly sipping on water before, during, and after an event or training!

RECIPES

fueltogo.com.au/recipes/

Check out a range of fuelling recipes on our website!

TOP TIPS!

1. Be hydrated - sip on water throughout the day and during training & competitions.
2. Find your fuelling regime - use training days to find your favourite fuelling foods. Don't try new foods on competition day!
3. Recovery - what you eat AFTER training or a competition is important for backing up your performance.
